commanding lead in the final of the Canadian professional bockey series by utscoring the Quebec team in the first of their match by 12 to 6 last gight at the St. Nicholas Rink. The Montreal players showed much more gainst Les Canadiens last week and now look like sure winners of the $2,500 rse, as all they have to do is to hold the Quebecs when they meet in the final ession to-night. There are some who believe, however, that the Quebec team s capable of overcoming the great odds against it, and to-night's match is extional ever seen at the local rink

For a time last night it looked as the Quebecs were the better team and would have the advantage at the end of score when McDonald shot one in on a pass from McNamara, the coverpoint of the Quebecs. The game hardly had got der way when this happened, and the Quebecs held the lead for quite some ime Then M. Smith, subbing for the Wanderers, made good with a goal which tied the game. Thereafter each team succeeded in making two goals for the period and the score ended a tie at 3-3.

In each case it was Quebec that never took the lead. Again in the sec-ond half Quebec scored first, Malone getting one from faccoff, and the Blue was in the lead again.

DR golf and tennis enthusiasts who want to keep abreast of ideas and events in their favorite sports THE SUN has arranged with J. Parmly Paret and John G. Anderson to write expert articles each week, which will appear on the sporting page every Monday morning. Paret, who was a ranking tennis player when the game was young in America and who since his tournament days has been a recognized authority on the game, supplied the first article of his series last Monday. Much favorable comment was heard upon it. Anderson's work on golf for THE SUN all last year is his best recommendation. He is a golfer of national prominence right now. In 1913 he was runnerup to Travers :: the amateur championship. Since he will compete in all the big events this year he will be in a strategic position to obtain a true golfer's viewpoint on developments.
